Members becoming Non-Practising

Becoming a non-practising member may trigger Law Society Rules [180, 181.1(1) and 181.1(2)] with regard to Accountant's Reports, disposition of files, trust monies, and other documents and valuables. Please read these Rules to determine whether you will be required to take any steps prior to becoming a non-practising member.

Returning to Practice

Rule 151.2 states that a non-practising member who has been engaged in the practice of law as defined in s.1(2) of the Act or its equivalent, in another province or territory in Canada and who meets the criteria set out in s.20(1)(a) of the Act, shall be reinstated as of right to the status of an active member upon payment of the difference between the non-practising fees paid by the member and the fees due for active membership for the year in which reinstatement is sought.

If you apply to be released from your non-practising undertaking, a test of competence may be applied (Rule 151.1). Should you apply to return to practice your Application will be reviewed by the Executive.
